

Stacey Halfmoon – Senior Director of the Choctaw Cultural Center

Stacey Halfmoon serves as the Senior Director of the Choctaw Cultural Center. Halfmoon began her career at the Choctaw Nation in 2019 after 25 years of professional experience in cultural preservation, tribal consultation, and museum leadership.

Halfmoon holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Oklahoma in Anthropology as well as training and certification in museum studies, heritage tourism and cultural resource law.

From 2007-2015 she served as Director of Outreach and Museum Programs for the American Indian Cultural Center and Museum in Oklahoma (First Americans Museum) and served as the inaugural Director of American Indian Relations for the Ohio History Connection from 2015-2019.

Halfmoon is a citizen of the Caddo Nation and is a descendant of Choctaw and Delaware Nations in Oklahoma.

Photo

High resolution photo available here

