

Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma Powwow

News Media/Photography Credentialing Criteria and Policy

Credentials are issued to broadcast, print and digital news media ASSIGNED to cover the Choctaw Powwow. Influencers, bloggers and similar forms of non-traditional media are not eligible for credentials. Please note that in order to receive media credentials for Powwow, you must be on assignment to cover the event. Photography without credentials can be taken for personal use only and images cannot be sold as a commercial product.

Requests from individuals representing documentary or independent media will be considered for approval on a case-by-case basis. Media applying for credentials will be notified should further information be required.

All freelance journalists and photographers must submit an assignment letter email from the general manager, editor or news director in order to receive media credentials.
